Open Source Racing Drone Frame Version 1

GETTING INTO FPV

The “miniquad” or “racing quad” community is an international community made up of people just like you who for whatever reason wanted to fly a quadcopter or “drone” so they set out to learn how to do that. And with their help you will be able to do the same.

THE FRAME

The SOURCE U is a continuation of the SOURCE frame line initiated by Team BlackSheep. It seeks to perfect the vertical, ultra-stiff and low drag racing frame for drone racers.

The frame is donated to the community to empower creators and makers, and integrate best practices and current trends faster into a continuously manufactured product. In return, it allows the local distribution network to have cheap and direct access to a good frame to compete in an increasingly competitive marketplace.
